Buying a castle may not be in your budget, but that doesn't mean you can't have a home that resembles a gorgeous fortress. Take for example this Silver Lake, California house.

If you've got $1.25 million to spare, you can own this abode that has its very own gothic-style turret. Now, you don't see many places with one of those these days, so you know this home will become a local landmark. But if that isn't enough to sell you, the Tudor-style house also has three bedrooms and two and a half baths to boot.

The recently restored 1926 home combines salvaged vintage pieces and modern decor beautifully — just look at the kitchen. The period tiles and custom cabinetry look amazing with the concrete sink. And the outdoor features are definitely a curb appeal boost.
