This sunlit corner unit condo in Glendale offers a bright space and plenty of room.

The building's midcentury exterior doesn't quite carry over to the unit's interior, but the residence has some other positive attributes, including space.

Measuring 1,365 square feet, this two-bedroom unit has a house-like size. And the two ample bathrooms make living with a roommate or significant other much easier. There's also pretty good light in the unit, with no shortage of windows.

It also manages to offer both a patio and a long balcony, despite its location on the building's ground floor. (Outdoor space is always a nice perk.)

This sweet and spacious condo comes with two parking spots and is listed for $425,000, with HOA dues of $632.
