

OPEN THREAD

Tracy Do answers real estate questions from readers

82

The Compass real estate agent joined us for a live online chat

By Jenna Chandler | @jennakchandler | Updated Sep 6, 2019, 11:02am PDT

f   SHARE

The median home price in LA County was $635,000 in July. | Getty Images/iStockphoto

Curious about what it's like to buy a house in Los Angeles right now, when prices are at an all-time high? Real estate agent Tracy Do signed onto Curbed LA this morning to answer questions from readers about the Los Angeles housing market.

Do, who leads a team of realtors at Compass who specialize in Los Feliz, Silver Lake, Echo Park, and Northeast Los Angeles, responded to questions from 10 to 11 a.m. The chat is now closed, but scroll through the comments section below to hear the conversation and answers to questions like: What percentage of buyers are purchasing homes to flip? And should I sell in a recession?

Read the discussion here.