Angelino Heights

Located in a historic district known for its Victorian homes, many of them built in the late 19th century, this unadorned contemporary is only five years old. Open and bright, the residence measures 1,008 square feet and holds one bathroom and two bedrooms, all on the second floor. Hardwood floors run throughout, and, on the first level, multiple sliding doors provide access to a wraparound patio and a yard peppered with drought tolerant plants and mature trees. Walking distance to Guisados and Dodger Stadium, the 2,615-square-foot property is listed at \$699,000.
